Once there, she starts working as a teaching assistant for Professor Nathan Hayes, her former mentor and English teacher. Since his divorce is now final, Nathan is looking for a fresh start with a woman who knows how to submit to his control and fulfill his need to please and be pleased in return. Lori always had a crush on the tall, dark, intriguing man, but he'd never shown an interest in her beyond her role as his student. Until now that is. Kiss Me:

Amy's world is in chaos.

Not only is the artist turned interior designer struggling to deal with her life as a newly divorced single woman but things get worse when Amy's house is robbed and her precious artwork is stolen.

It seems everything is spiraling out of control with no sign of stopping, until she meets Christian Daniels. Christian is an artist who is supposed to be the next big thing on the scene, and when Amy first meets him at a gallery opening, the potent chemistry between them is undeniable. The way he looks at her with his icy blue gaze leaves her skin feeling flushed as if he's undressing with his eyes. But just as Amy's life appears to be getting back on track, what will happen when she discovers that it may have been Christian Daniels who stole her artwork? Will she be able to reconcile her deepest desires with the betrayal?

Slammed:

From her job to her love life, everything is going wrong in Samantha's life. It doesn't help that her new and distractingly annoying neighbor David has some unusual and mysterious habits that keep her up all night long, but things aren't exactly as they seem. After a power outage in the middle of the hot Arizona summer forces Samantha to return to David's doorstep, things quickly spiral out of Samantha's hands and into his. But will Samantha allow herself to forsake control long enough to find the satisfaction she's after? Will David's coolly dominant demeanor ease Samantha's reluctance to reveal herself? And what will happen when they find themselves stripped-down and face-to-face in the pool?
